Open House January 6

Move Starts to New City Hall Next Week

Residents of Campbell will be invited to visit the new City Hall at 75 N. Central Ave., at an "open house" with members of the official city family acting as hosts on Sunday afternoon, January 6, 1957.

The City Council on Monday set the date for the "open house" when W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector in charge of the remodeling of the former Congregational Church biulding, reported to the Council that this Saturday would be moving day for the city departments and that the City Council could hold its first meeting in the new quarters next Monday. The Council felt that by January 6 all the "bugs" would be out of it."

Upon Morser's recommendation the Council employed James Maffei, 596 E. Hawthorne, as janitor of the new City Hall. He will receive $100 per month for his janitorial services with the equipment and supplies to be furnished by the City and will start work immediately.

The Council deferred action on the question of what type of zoning should be in effect on the property recently annexed to the City at the corner of Union and Campbell Ave.

The Planning Commission originally recommended that the parcel should be heavy commercial. But the Council thought light commercial was enough and sent the recommendation back to the City Planners for the suggested change or for the reasons why the heavier zone should be in effect.

Last Thursday the Planners decided to stick with their original recommendation because they felt that the new Freeway which will border the property would make C-2-S the better zone.

Their new recommendation was immediately forwarded to the City Council but the City Fathers decided to wait until City Attorney Joseph Bonacina and Planning Consultant Nestor Barrett were present to take final action.

Will It Be O.K.?

Campbell City Planners hold a public hearing tonight at 7:30 in the Fire House in an adjourned meeting from their last Thursday's session on whether or not the City of Campbell should be allowed to use the new City Hall which will be ready for occupancy this weekend.

It is believed to be a foregone conclusion that the Planners will okay both the application for a use permit and a variance for a front yard setback of 1½ feet instead of the required 25-feet for a residential zone.

But it has to be official and legal. Hence the hearing.

WAIT FOR STOP SIGNS

Residents in the area of S. Virginia, Rincon, Cypress and Bucknall avenues, are hoping that the city will soon see its way clear to installing the stop signs promised some time ago for the intersections where all four streets come together. The City Council agreed to the necessity of the signs after the residents in the section had brought the serious traffic situation to their attention.

Cops Nab Burglars In Action

Two Campbell police officers (one an auxiliary) caught two armed youthful burglars early Sunday morning in the act of 'knocking over" the Williams Bros. Mobilgas Service Station at the intersection of W. Campbell Ave., and San Tomas Road.

Because of the swift action of Officer Dick Mayne and Auxiliary Luis Wilson, three burglary suspects were in custody this week and a number of other burglaries in the area had been cleared up. The third member of the ring, who had dropped the pair apprehended at the scene, was picked up later Sunday in San Jose.

Mayne and Wilson were on routine patrol about 2:30 a.m. Sunday when they spotted a broken window at the service station. Wilson stayed by the window while Mayne approached the front, where he heard the suspects pounding open metal money boxes.

When the youths hesitated to come out on Mayne's first command Mayne ordered Wilson to enter from the window while he covered them from the front. Whereupon the youths came out pleading with Officer Mayne not to shoot them. They left their weapons, two fully loaded pistols, one with a shell in the chamber, in the station. (The guns were identified later as having been stolen from the Orchard Supply in San Jose on Friday night).

The burglars also had with them jimmy bars, a large screw driver and cotton and leather gloves.

Investigation revealed that the two youthful burglars (one a teenager from the Quito Park area) and the other, Bruce Miller, 18, of Santa Clara, had been dropped at the service station by John L. Wolmack, 23, of San Jose. Wolmack was picked up later by San Jose police and also charged with burglary. Miller first gave his age as younger than 18 but a further check revealed he was 18. Consequently he will be charged as an adult for burglary while armed with a deadly weapon while the teenager has been certified to juvenile court.

Wolmack, who police report has a prior burglary record and has served in San Quentin, later in the week admitted to burglarizing the Campbell High School on Friday when $17 was taken from the dean's office. The two younger suspects admitted to at least five other burglaries in the area.

Grant Use Permit

City Planners OK Site For New Post Office

In a somewhat reluctant manner, the City Planners last Thursday approved the application for a use permit to build a post office at 97-109 N. Central Ave. The vote for approval came after considerable discussion on parking problem, necessary driveways and the future status of Central Ave. The decision was not unanimous.

Chairman Homer Hyde cast a dissenting vote. Commissioner Sam O'Brien was absent.

In granting the use permit the Planners tacked on the condition that the approval was subject to approval by the Planners of the building and site plans. These also must be submitted to the Planning Commission.

Al Conley, local real estate agent, representing Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, owners of the property, told the Commission that postal authorities had accepted the land option for the site from his clients, subject to the use permit approval. The location, about 120 feet from the new city hall is now in a residential zone.

Conley explained that the lot is 80 feet by 197 feet and that a 6000 square foot building would be erected. The structure would be setback to allow for future street widening and it was planned that cars would swing in and out on the front driveway. He also said that negotiations were underway to obtain egress and ingress from adjacent properties to allow an in-and-out truck driveway. This is necessary because the site is not on a corner (one lot between it and Grant Ave). He said there would be room for three cars to park in front of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy were both present at the meeting. Kennedy submitted a letter from the post office department acknowledging the acceptance of the land option.

It was explained also at the meeting that the post office department will not build the structure but will lease from the successful bidder who constructs it.

The thought was expressed by several of the City Planners and Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, that the area could possibly be developed in the future into a modified civic center with the city hall and post office forming the nucleus.

Chairman Hyde maintained, however, that a more suitable location could be found for a post office. He said that the parking and setback problems would be acute on Central Ave. and the widening of Central Ave., he pointed out, was still far in the future.

Lease on the present post office, 188 E. Campbell Ave., will run out in July. The new structure will be more than double the present size.

Originally it was thought that the building next to its present location now occupied by the Campbell Cleaners could be taken over by the post office. However, just recently Lowell Benson of the cleaning firm signed a new 10-year lease.

Commission Turns Down Use Permit For Novelty Firm

With regret the City Planners turned down the request of the Snowfoam Novelty Co., for a use permit to operate the firm at 10 Lowell Way (at the rear of the Aero Pharmacy on Winchester Road).

The company owned and operated by George Donovan and Charles Filson has been operating from their garage on Harriett Ave. and expanded business has necessitated more room. The two men make novelties from polystyrene, a type of plastic. The novelties feature Christmas symbols at the present time but the partners have a year-round business also. The material is extremely light and Donovan showed the Planners some of the finished products.

The Planners, as well as Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, were sympathetic over the merits of the firm but felt they could not deviate in the zoning conditions. The proposed location is in a commercial zone and despite the lightness of the operation, the novelty company was defined definitely as manufacturing.

In other actions last Thursday, the Planning Commission approved:

(1) A zone change from residential to commercial for property owned at 60 Mission Way and extending to Rincon Ave. The parcel includes the former Campbell Hatchery and is owned by Mr. and

Campbell Kids Take Limelight During Big Week

Junior Citizens Day dominated the early part of the week at Campbell and Camden High Schools, as students took over city and school offices for a day.

This week was designated as Campbell Kids' Week, and the events at the high school touched off the activities.

The week is being sponsored by the Campbell Kiwanis Club and the Campbell Soup Co., which is conducting a nation-wide program to promote a greater interest in local government. City officials and their student counterparts were feted at a Kiwanis Club luncheon Tuesday.

Progressing this week, as part of the activities, is a photographic contest open to all Campbell residents. Subjects for the pictures are local merchants displays. Campbell Soup Co. also is conducting a photo contest at the high schools. Prizes are to be awarded to the two students in each of the two schools who produce the best news photo and the best human interest photo typical of the week's activities.

Tomorrow afternoon (December 14) a Campbell Kids' Birthday party will be held in the children's ward of the Santa Clara County Hospital. Each child will receive a "Campbell Kid" toy from the Soup Co.

The program is the first of its kind in Campbell. It coincides with the "birthday" of the Campbell Kids of soup fame. Coordinator for the week's activities is Laurance J. Hill, superintendent of the Campbell Union High School District.

Should Campus Be Closed?

Students Express Views on City-School Problem

Campbell youths have definite ideas about government, its functions and its operation whether it is a school or city that is affected. They also are willing to express themselves on the subject.

This was evident this week as the first Junior Citizens Day took place in town with Campbell High School students assuming the roles of city and school district officials. So successfully did the students play their roles that the event is well on its way to becoming an annual project.

In addition, a suggestion made by a student official became official by subsequent action of the regular City Council and may solve a troublesome question that has strained relations between school and city for some time.

Mayor John M. Chargin was so enthusiastic about the activity that he publicly announced at the close of the City Council meeting Monday night that he favored it as an annual affair. At the Council meeting five members of the Campbell High School Student Council had taken places as Councilmen (junior grade) while other students acted as city clerk, chief of police, and fire chief.

Closed Campus Comes Up

The highlight of the evening was the discussion provoked by Councilman Richard Morton. He asked members of the City Council Pro Tem just how they would act in the elective City Fathers' places on the question of whether the high school campus should be closed during the noon hour because of the actions of some of the students.

He explained that these students had created a traffic problem by their "waddling" across the intersections and that many of them persisted in littering the streets to such an extent that it has caused an unsightly situation. He also mentioned that some students had been apprehended for allegedly shoplifting in stores adjacent to the school.

Almost all the city officials(junior grade) as well as a number of students present in the audience had something to say on the subject.

It was Fire Chief (pro tem) Larry Weber who got the credit for the suggestion which was adopted then and there by the official City Council. Chief Weber thought that city officials should arrange to meet with the students in a panel discussion and he felt that the understanding that would be reached from such a panel would go far in solving the problem from the point of view of both students and the city. Mayor Chargin promised to appoint a committee by the next meeting.

Many Suggestions

Other suggestions on the topic included:

City Clerk (pro tem) Lani Cahill: How about a scramble system at the intersection (Winchester and Campbell Ave.)? hour? He also wondered if a cross-walk in the middle of the block (at the entrance of the school might not help.

City Clerk Cahill also suggested that to minimize the alleged thieving perhaps those stores most affected should be declared off-limits to the students. However, Councilman (pro tem) Art Hill didn't agree because this would be saying in effect, he said, "don't swipe from this store but do it in the others." Miss Cahill also pointed out that the campus was overcrowded now and that a closed campus would make it that much more difficult to eat at school during the time allotted.

However, Councilman (pro tem) Art Hill didn't agree because this would be saying in effect, he said, "don't swipe from this store but do it in the others." Miss Cahill also pointed out that the campus was overcvrowded now and that a closed campus would make it that much more difficult to eat school during the time allotted.

Councilwoman (pro tem) Christine Anderson maintained that threats to close the campus when not carried out lost their effectiveness. She wondered if a real crackdown would not make the students realize the seriousness of

Only A Few

Councilman (pro tem) Art Hill believed that only a few troublemakers were involved while Councilman (pro tem) Gene Andres wondered if the school administration couldn't handle the problem better, easier and faster than the students.

Councilman (not pro tem) Richard Morton mentioned during the discussion that when he appeared in an official capacity at the school to talk on the same problem, he was disappointed with the attitude of the students. He cited their lack of courtesy and inattentiveness as being so bad that he would hesitate to return.

City Clerk (pro tem) Cahill was shocked by Morton's description: "As far as I know no speaker has ever been hooted," she exclaimed, "maybe a singer but never a speaker."

Chief of Police Locke interposed the point that most of the students crossing the street at noon are really not seeking lunch but rather a smoke. He also pointed out that a few students who have been expelled for infractions of rules are often police problems.

Both Councilmen and members of the audience were impressed by the poise of the students and their eagerneess to cooperate. The City Council enthusiastically passed the motion then to have a committee in the panel discussion in the near future.

Football Banquet Set for Tonight At Campbell High

Campbell High School's Annual Football Banquet will be staged tonight (December 13) in the Campbell High School Cafeteria beginning at 6:30 o'clock, according to Homer Hyde, chairman of the school's PTA Dads Club, which is sponsoring the affair in conjunction with the school student body.

The banquet is open to the public. There is a charge of $1.25 per plate. "It should be a good affair for all sports minded people," Hyde said.

Herm. Meister, line coach at the University of California, has been invited to speak at the dinner. In addition to this, moving pictures of the past season's Cal-Stanford "Big Game" will be shown by Coach Meister.

Reservations or tickets are necessary for those who plan to attend, according to Hyde. The tickets may be procured at any of the Campbell service clubs. Reservations may be obtained by calling Campbell High School at FR 8-3481.

Mrs. Burt L. Burda. The Burdas were reprsented by William J. Harris, San Jose attorney.

The attorney told the Planners that his clients planned to build a two-story structure with professional offices on the first floor and apartments on the second. The applicants also agreed to provide ingress and egress to Rincon Ave. to alleiviate the traffic on narrow Mission Way. Before, when the Burdas had asked for a zone change, they had not provided for entry and exit to Rincon.

(2) A zone variance to Noel J. Brown to allow the operation of 50-ton capacity punch presses in a light manufacturing zone at 49 E. Parr Ave., an area recently annexed to the City. The Planners agreed to the request after being assured by a letter from the Cascade Research, Inc., which will be located across the street that the presses would not interfere with their sensitive electronic manufacturing firm that will soon be erected there.

(3) Approved by a divided vote (Commissioners Les Harmon and Chairman Homer Hyde voting "no") a use permit for Albert Frank to operate an automatic automobile washing machine business behind the Union Oil Service Station (Wes Briggs) at Latimer and Winchester Road.

Before voting on the application, considerable discussion ensued over the noise that would emanate from the car laundry. Nestor Barrett said that the car washer near his office in San Jose was "extremely noisy, disturbing and irritating". He wondered if the operation here would not disturb residents in the largest apartment house in Campbell which is located near the station. The planners were assured by a representative of the company that sells the equipment that in the modern machinery the noise has been tuned down. The Planners agreed to visit some of the modern establishments to see and hear for themselves.

(4) Decided to call a joint meeting with Los Gatos planners to work out details for a highly restrictive light industrial zoning for recently annexed territory to the south. The Los Gatos Planners are preparing a similar zoning ordinance for the same area. The area in general extends around E. Parr Ave.

(5) Approved a compromise arrangement with W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector which would allow the inspector to pass on minor building permits, especially the erection of signs, without the formality of first coming before the Planners and the round-robin approval of city officials.

(6) In a final action of the night, officially changed the meeting place from the Country Woman's Club to the new City Hall at 75 N. Central Ave., which will be in operation next week.

What the American cruise ship of the future may look like, according to a new book entitled "Famous American Ships." With smokestack aft and boasting tier upon tier of domed, glass-enclosed promenade decks, the liner will cater largely to tourist class passengers. Published by Hastings House, New York, the book outlines in lively fashion the story of how ships helped make America. Beginning with the Viking ship and ending with the superliner UNITED STATES it details the heroic maritime epic that has made America great. The book, written and illustrated by Frank O. Braynard, former president of the Steamship Historical Society of America, nominates 60 ships for our Maritime Hall of Fame.

"TOMMY" THE FOX, who is a frequent food hand-out caller at the Kish Kaduk fishing lodge in Algonquin Park, on the transcontinental line of the Canadian National Railways through Northern Ontario, does a little pre-Christmas sniffing to find out "What's for me" on the decorated outdoor Christmas tree. Chief Guide Jack Wilkinson annually decorates a tree for the friendly animals in the 3,000 square-mile Provincial park, where hunting is not allowed but trout fishing is encouraged. FNS

Camden To Boast Larger Campus Soon

Camden High will have a larger campus by September, 1957, it was revealed recently. New buildings, scheduled to be completed before the start of school next year, will include two new senior classroom wings, each of the same size as the present classroom wings.

Another important addition to the campus will be the new swimming pool. Construction of this community facility is expected to begin shortly after the start of the year and the pool is expected to be ready for use before the summer of 1957.

Sunnyvale To Host Basketball Jamboree

Friday, December the 14th, Camden B's and Varsity will participate in a basketball jamboree with Los Altos and Sunnyvale beginning at 6:00.

Sunnyvale's gym will provide 400 seats for students and 400 seats for parents from each of the schools.

While the teams play one half game with each other, the judges will decide to whom the many trophies will go. Trophies will be awarded for the best cheering section, the most outstanding player, the most sensational shot, the best teamwork, and other competitions.

Rooters' buses will provide transportation for those unable to supply their own way. Trip slips will be in the deans office.

There are eight national monuments in California.

Larry Weber Is Scout Candidate To Report To President Of U. S.

Larry Weber has been selected as a candidate to report to President Eisenhower on this year's Scouting program.

Larry is a member of Explorer Troop No. 27 in Campbell. He was chosen as one of 53 other local council representatives from Region 12 to be interviewed for final selection. Region 12 covers five western states and Hawaii. One Explorer is to be picked from each of the 12 regions to go to Washington, D. C.

Larry has been active in Scouting since 1948. He has been a Cub and Boy Scout and is now an Explorer. He is a member of the Eagle Scout honor society and the Knights of Dunamis. He was a representative to the "Citizens Now Conference" recently held at Stanford University.

He acts as moderator of the Presbyterian Senior High School Group. Larry's activities here at Campbell High include track and basketball. He is also secretary of the student body and is on CSF.

Buc Matmen Seek Gilroy Victory

The Buc Wrestling team packs up and invades Gilroy in this week's grunt and groan scrap. They will be heavily favored in the lower weights, but in the upper weights chances are slim.

Coach McDermott seems to be very confident in his team this year. He says, "this team has been champions for the last four years in a row, we are going to return champions again this year."

Gilroy is always a tough team. In past years they have shown to be even more tough to beat.

This match will open the season for the Bucs, some of the probable starters will be John Duncan at heavy weight, Paul Worthman at 165, Ray Gaxiola at 154, Jim Omura at 138, Lee Yamada at 133, Harry Tomasika at 128, Fred Stroppa at 120 and David Nevis at 112. There are no definite starters at 191, 175 and 103.

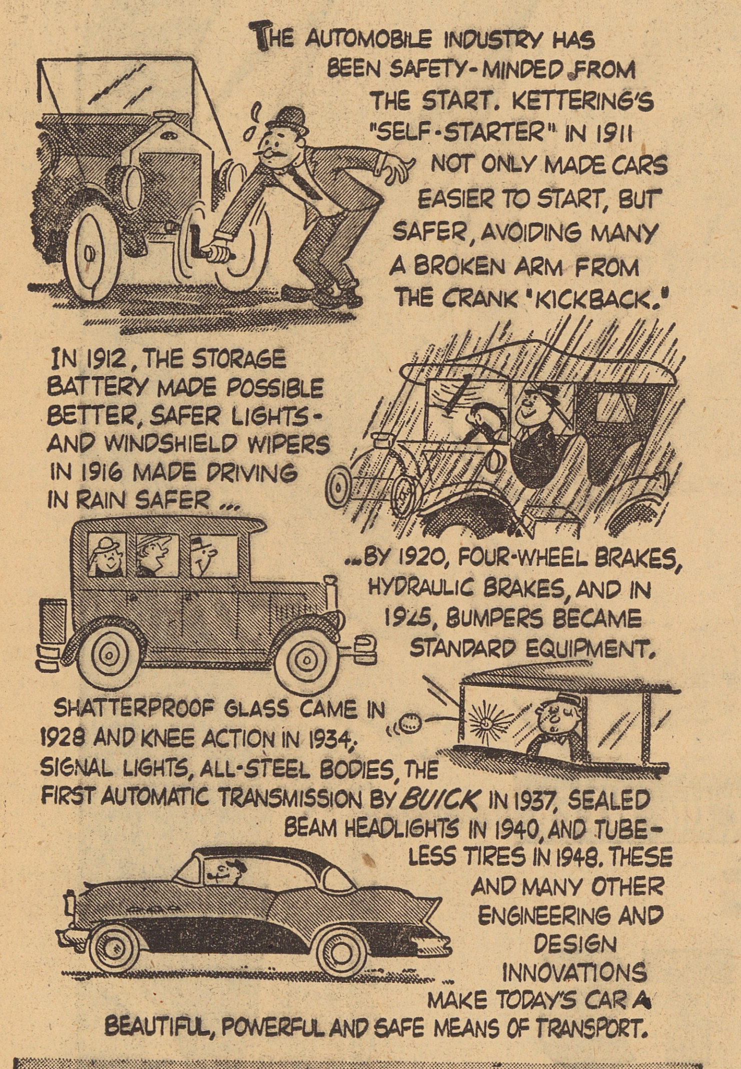
Safety Features on Cars



THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY HAS BEEN SAFETY-MINDED FROM THE START. KETTERING'S "SELF-STARTER" IN 1911 NOT ONLY MADE CARS EASIER TO START, BUT SAFER, AVOIDING MANY A BROKEN ARM FROM THE CRANK "KICKBACK."

IN 1912, THE STORAGE BATTERY MADE POSSIBLE BETTER, SAFER LIGHTS—AND WINDSHIELD WIPERS IN 1916 MADE DRIVING IN RAIN SAFER ...

...BY 1920, FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES, HYDRAULIC BRAKES, AND IN 1925, BUMPERS BECAME STANDARD EQUIPMENT.

SHATTERPROOF GLASS CAME IN 1928 AND KNEE ACTION IN 1934, SIGNAL LIGHTS, ALL-STEEL BODIES, THE FIRST AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION BY BUICK IN 1937, SEALED BEAM HEADLIGHTS IN 1940, AND TUBELESS TIRES IN 1948. THESE AND MANY OTHER ENGINEERING AND DESIGN INNOVATIONS MAKE TODAY'S CAR A BEAUTIFUL, POWERFUL AND SAFE MEANS OF TRANSPORT.

DOVER SCHOOL

Dover Home and School Club members Monday night heard representatives from San Jose Television Channel 11 discuss the subject of "Commercial Television and Education." Speakers were introduced by Robert Somerville, Dover parent, and included Fran Conrad, General Manager for Channel 11 and Russ Truesdell, Program manager.

Conrad pointed out with special emphasis that commercial television is simply a mirror reflecting public taste. Since it rests on advertising for financial success, the more accurately television reflects public taste, the more successful commercial television will be. He urged that viewers, individually and group-wise, make constructive criticism known to television stations as a means of better identifying public taste.

Truesdell stated that selectivity is the answer to how to best use television for educational purposes. The T-V viewer should take advantage of the better programs, for selective viewing actually improves learning processes, increases interest in reading and upgrades viewers' general taste. Television especially increases understanding of current events, an important factor in learning.

Girl Scout Troop 278 opened the program with the flag salute. Pupil entertainment was provided by the combined fifth grades under the direction of Mrs. Zoe Fischer, Sam Cook and Max Bingham. The fifth graders presented the Christmas Story in song and recital from the Bible Book of St. Luke. Refreshments followed the evening program and were in the charge of Mrs. Delores Timmerman. Should the Post Office Go on Central?

The Campbell Planning Commission has approved the request for a use permit to allow construction of the Post Office at 97-109 N. Central Ave., (near Grant Ave.) Campbell. One of the first steps in the move of the mail emporium to a new location in town.

The site is now in a residential zone and the use permit was necessary to allow the construction of a public building. Although the post office department will not build the building, postal officials must decide on the location. The plan then is for a person or persons to purchase the property and construct a building that will meet the specifications laid down by the department. It will [illegible] be leased to the postal department.

We understad that officials from the postal department spent considerable time investigating various locations in town that would be suitable for a post office.

We concede that these officials should know what they are looking for in the way of a site. After all that is their business apparently. However, we would be interested in knowing why they preferred the location on Central in preference to other spots in town.

We can think of more disadvantages than advantages for the location that apparently has been picked. Past experience shows that the decision of the postal department may not be final until the mail starts coming in and going out of the new building. It is conceivable that postal officials may yet change their minds, even after they have obtained a land option agreement executed by the present property owners.

One point in favor of the location on Central Ave., is that this area could become a sort of civic center. The post office would be located only a short distance from the new city hall.

We like that idea, but we feel that this is offset by the narrow street and poor parking facilities and that Central Ave. is almost all residential.

We know that it is unnecessary today to have a post office where there is considerable foot traffic. People will come to the post office wherever it is. By car, that is. It then would follow by this reasoning that parking and traffic become more important than ever before.

It has been said that eventually Central Ave. will be widened and, if the post office is constructed there, the building will be set back to allow for this eventuality.

We think it is a good idea to widen Central, but we cannot help wondering when such an undertaking will take place.

In case someone thinks we have an axe to grind in this case, we emphasize that we have no pet spot picked out for a post office other than we consider that it would be better to have it on a wider street and more centrally located.

It is an established fact that the post office will move. It has outgrown its present quarters on Campbell Ave., and it cannot expand its facilities there when its lease runs out. The building next to it has been leased for another ten years.

As we have said, we do not know how the postal officials arrived at their decision for a new location, but we cannot help wondering how much thought (if any) was given to the long-range viewpoint as far as the town itself was concerner.

The need for a master-plan of some nature is clearly evident.

Whether we like it or not, we in this area are going to be caught in this snow-ball of expansion and growth. We just will have to roll along with the momentum.

It would be sort of nice, however, to direct the roll of this ever-increasing snow-ball to a certain extent.

It may be o.k. to just grow like Topsy did, but we wonder if it is the wisest thing as far as the future welfare of our community is concerned.

Have you an answer?

We are not sure how the subject came up but while chatting the other day with Carl Field in his store the conversation somehow turned to snuff.

We learned much to our amazement that Carl sells a considerable amount of snuff over the counter in his market.

Not only were we surprised that snuff is such a popular item in this day and age but we learned also that it is necessary to carry a variety of different kinds to satisfy the demand.

Naturally we had heard of and had seen (who hasn't) the Copenhagen snuff box but, in addition to Copenhagen, we counted something like eight other brands and varieties displayed on Carl's shelves.

Such brands as "Red Seal, sweet snuff", "Honest Scotch Snuff", "Garrett's sweet, mild snuff", "Skoal", "Levi Garrett Scotch Snuff", and "American Snuff" were all on the counter.

We don't know what gave us the idea that people just weren't using snuff any more. But our examination of Carl Field's display, coupled with the volume of business that is done locally, certainly gave us a different insight of the situation . . . snuffwise, that is.

We will just have to watch people more closely, that's all.

We remember as a youngster being intrigued by snuff-using people but we haven't paid enough attention lately, we guess.

However, we are not about to carry our research to an extreme where we will try to use it.

'Snuff said.

We dutifully trotted over to the Rosemary School the other day to shoot, by camera, that is, the Brownie troop of Mrs. Robert Murray and Mrs. C. W. Crossno, who are doing the commendable job of gathering clothing for the Hungarian Relief drive.

Tony Van Laarhoven, pricipal of Rosemary School, accompanied us to the door of the room where the little gals were meeting and sorting out clothes.

When we opened the door, Mrs. Murray called out.

"Here is the man from the paper to take our picture. Hurry girls, put your money away."

In all fairness to Mrs. Murray we must report that the girls were counting their dues when we walked in. It wasn't because she didn't trust newspapermen that she was cautioning her little charges to hide their money. She just wanted them to get ready for the picture so not to delay us.

Naturally we couldn't let such a warning to the little gals pass but we had a good time needling Mrs. Murray unmercifully as she embarrassedly tried to explain what she had meant.

Having been a newspaperman for quite some time, we are pretty much immune to the greetings we get from time to time. Even if Mrs. Murray had meant her warning as it sounded, which she didn't, of course, it still wouldn't have phased us.

We agree wholeheartedly with the suggestiion of Chief of Police Bob Locke that Junior Citizen Day in Campbell when the teenagers learn first hand how the city is run should become an annual event.

Bob made his suggestion at a recent Council meeting. We think it should be developed further and carried out as a yearly project for the City.

This year, of cuorse, the Campbell Soup company has stepped into the picture, mainly because of the tie-in with the similarity of names and because the soup company also wants to stimulate the youngsters' iinterest in governmental affairs.

Of course, the soup firm wants to promote its product which is also a commendable typical American trait but the community will also benefit from the promotion.

The kids will get a bang out of it and they should also learn something worthwhile from the event.

Charlie Rose, popular city councilman, has been on the sick list for several weeks so we stopped by the other day to visit with him.

The Rose home is on Hamilton Ave. and part of their front yard has been taken over for the widening project of Hamilton that is now underway. Charlie won't have much front lawn to mow when the street is widened, that is for sure.

The Rose's yard has another added feature due to the widening. A new utility pole now sits right smack in their front lawn. We suggested that they dress it up with tinsel evergreen leaves and stuff for Christmastime. But we doubt that they will.

Anyway, the thought struck us that City Councilman Charles Rose will be able to speak wtih authority any time the inevitable front yard setback problem comes up before the Council in the future.

And, believe us, it is one question that is bound to continue to pop up as tempus fugits.

We suppose it is only fair to report that your editor is going to be absent next week. Consequently, you will have a respite from the meanderings of this column.

Lester Lafferty, former publisher of The Press, and now associated with a Los Gatos real estate firm, will spell us for the week. We expect he will have a colunm on this page to take "on the limb's" place.

We are leaving our days of bachelorhood behind, as many of you know.

We have no regrets on that score and are looking forward with eagerness and enthusiasm to the new state of affairs that will be in effect around our household.

We consider ourself a very fortunate individual in getting our Dotty to say "yes".

We have long used the "editorial we" in our writings.

Now it will have a more authentic ring because of the ring.

—o—

We have just been invited to join Sigma Delta Chi, the national professional journalism fraternity, made up of those who are dedicated to bettering the profession and those who are actively engaged in it.

It is an honor that we were proud to accept but our standing in the profession, in our mind at least, has taken a drop since last Friday's occurrence at the office. We considered for a time turning in our suit as a newspaperman.

The entire staff of The Press ganged up on us without our knowledge and surprised us with a party last Friday afternoon . . . a shower yet.

We were out of the office for a little while and upon our return we were greeted with shouts of "surprise! surprise!" And it was just that.

We can't recall when were surprised like that before. We are anxious to see the pictures that were taken by Anita with the shock still registering on our face.

That's what we mean about turning in our suit.

For a seasoned newspaperman to be completely surprised in his own office.

Wow! !

But it still was nice. So, thanks gang, for everything.

Fire Chief Issues Decoration, Yule Tree Safety Rules

Campbell Fire Chief, Jack Scott, this week issued a few simple fire-safety rules concerning Christmas tree decorations and lights, to insure that the holidays will be merry and not marred by tragic and costly fire accidents.

Chief Scott urges that in placing Christmas trees avoid "hot spots": such as near fire-places, television sets, radiators and electric light bulbs.

Use only electric lights—no candles; and make sure the lights bear the U. S. label for tree strings. Keep the switch for the tree lights some distance from the tree.

Decorations must be flame-proof, the Chief says. A simple fire-proofing solution for cotton or paper decorations can be made by mixing nine ounces of carbon tetraborate (borax), and four ounces of boric acid with one gallon of water. Just dip the decorations in the solution and let them dry before hanging.

According to Chief Scott, State law requires that all trees and decorations used in schools, churches, stores and any commercial or industrial area must be flame-proofed

The Fire Chief points out that care should be taken in burning package wrappings. Don't throw them in fireplaces and stoves all at once—put them in one at a time.

Parents should supervise childrens play which involves electrical, chemical or fuel operated toys.

LAW IN ACTION

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT

The Egyptians, of all people, thought they could take their wealth into the next world—together sometimes with some hapless attendants fresh killed for the occasion.

But to judge by the way we pass on property, Americans love life even in the solemn moments when we are about to take leave of it.

1. One of our biggest accumulations of wealth lies in life insurance investments for those who live on—to support and educate them.

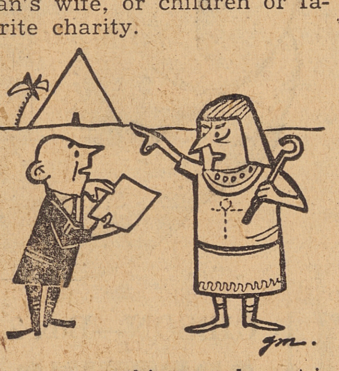
2. Even before our tax laws made gifts a good way to save on income and death taxes, vast funds had been put into trusts for education, religion, charity, research, libraries, museums, art, literature and the like.

The mortar-board on the head of a student from an endowed college is to America what a sphinx or pyramid was to ancient Egypt—a token of what people hold most dear.

The law, like technology, has its pivotal inventions and the "trust" as a legal idea may have helped to turn men's eyes away from the tomb.

For the trust allows a person to carry on some cherished idea long after he is no longer here to look after it in person—through trustees to whom he turns over his goods to do his bidding under the eye of a court.

Trustees manage property often set up in wills, but quite often set up during life for the benefit of a man himself, a man's wife, or children or favorite charity.



Almost anything can be put in trust for any number of people with different benefits for each of them. It can be tailored to their needs. The trustees take over the property as owner to manage wisely, but the use of the income from it goes to the "beneficiaries." The trust separates (1) the duties of management, from (2) the benefits of ownership such as support and income.

Facilities of the 43-bed psychiatric wing of Herrick Hospital will be used for demonstrations with patients. Doctors will be able to listen to recorded interviews with disturbed patients.

Twice each day, registrants will meet in small discussion groups to talk over lecture material and apply it to specific cases.

Further information about the symposium may be obtained by writing Dr. Seymour M. Farber, Head, Medical Extension, University of California Medical Center, San Francisco 22, California.

Groups Back War On Drunk Drivers

A state-wide attack against drunk driving over the December holidays was assured today as local safety councils, military installations, Federal agencies and civic groups indicated an intention to back the attack against drunk driving planned by the California Highway Patrol and the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

According to Highway Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell there was an average last December of 71 fatal and injurious traffic accidents daily in the State involving a driver who had been drinking. This was almost 50 per cent higher than the daily average of such accidents for the entire year.

"The enforcement program will be stronger and even more effective than usual with such an array of public supporters working toward the same goal", Caldwell declared.

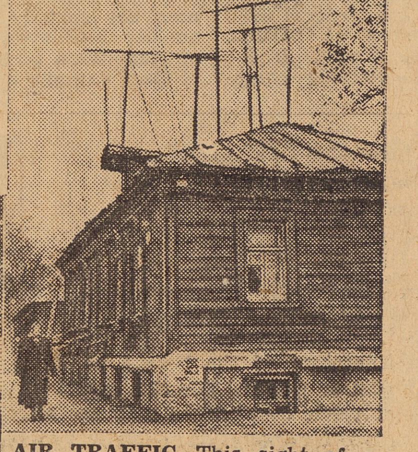
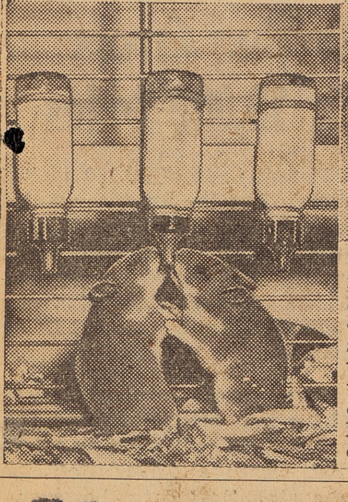
Traffic All Snarled Up!

WATER TRAFFIC—How these Venetian boatmen steer their craft without plowing into one another is a navigation miracle. This mass of gondolas and assorted vessels glide along the Grand Canal in Venice, Italy, as part of the traditional festivities marking "The Wedding of Venice With The Sea," climaxing the tourist season.



AIR TRAFFIC—This sight of a mass of TV antennae protruding above a ramshackle weather-beaten house in Moscow verifies Russians have TV reception problems, too. Although Muscovite factory workers seemingly earn only enough for the bare essentials of life, here's proof they enjoy modern luxury items such as TV sets.

TRAFFIC BOTTLENECK—This picture presents an unusual traffic "bottleneck"—two hamsters scuffling over the same bottle of milk. When this pair of two-year-olds were abandoned by their mother, an enterprising Irvington, N. J., man came up with this ingenious idea of feeding. (U P Photos)



'Cal-Vet' Program Signs 100,000th Veteran Contract

The 100,000th California veteran just signed a contract for a "Cal-Vet" loan. In making this announcement. J. Marvin Russell, State Director of Veterans Affairs, pointed out that 50,000 of these loans were made during the last five years of the 35 year old program, and that more than 1,200 new loans were issued during November alone.

"The state's 3 percent farm and home financing plan is attaining new peaks of popularity," he declared. "Our biggest problem is finding enough appraisers and inspectors to look at the properties we are asked to buy."

The 100,000th veteran loan was assigned to a farmer, James R. Pearson, who is purchasing forty acres of alfalfa, peaches and prunes seven miles south of Marysville, Yuba County.

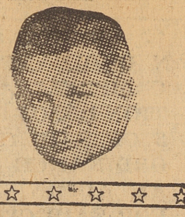
The maximum farm loan is set by law at $40,000, and veterans with wounds or disabilities of record have priority. Home loans may go as high as $13,500 to a veteran who is building on his lot, or $15,000 to purchase an existing dwelling. Except for wounded or disabled veterans, a temporary limit of $10,000 exists on home loans.

Veterans qualify through having entered military service from California in World Wars I or II or the Korean conflict period. They obtain the advantages not only of a 3 percent interest on their mortgages but of low-cost home protection life and disability insurance, special fire insurance rates and the assurance of sound, inspected properties.

More than $400,000,000 are currently invested in 64,000 Cal-Vet properties throughout California (the other 36,000 having been paid in full). Last month an additional $500 million worth of California Veterans Bonds were approved by the State's voters to continue the program.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

There is an old fable that "a snake doesn't die until sundown". Last week in Los Angeles I learned that some human "snakes" refuse to die at all. Our subcommittee on postal operations held hearings in the southern city to study the effect of a law we recently passed which would curtail the mailing of obscene and dirty literature to young high school students.

Our bill allows postmasters to impound the mail of persons suspected of dealing in obscene literature for a period of twenty days. In the past we had been unable to stop these vultures, who sell their indecent wares to young high school pupils, because by the time we could catch up with them they had moved to a new address. We left Congress feeling that we had accomplished a fine piece of work.

Last week we were amazed to learn that these rather sharp operators are getting around our law. The same old obscene literature is being mailed with a copy of a used pulp magazine of questionable literary value but which is registered under U. S. copyright laws.

In Los Angeles mailing lists can be freely bought which are confined to high school students or, if one wishes a more specialized list, it is possible to purchase the names of those who have purchased sex literature in the past. Fortunes have been made in this business and how to deny the use of the mails for such purposes has us baffled.

The Post Office Department cannot set itself up as a censor bureau since we would then be in a position of violating freedom of the press. Personally I have a great respect for the liberties guaranteed under our Constitution, and I have no intention of advocating a lessening of those liberties. However, I shall never rest, nor will other members of the committee rest, until we are able to find effective means of preventing these violators of human decency and merchants of filth from using the Post Office Department to corrupt our younger generation, and at the same time make fabulous profits for themselves.

State Finds Eight Homes for Aged Are Substandard

State Senator John F. "Jack" Thompson has announced that eight boarding homes for the aged, described as substandard by an investigator for the Senate Interim Committee on Public Health, have been closed or will soon be closed.

The homes were in Kern, Stanislaus, Monterey and Ventura Counties. One Santa Cruz County facility was ordered to abide by the terms of its license or face legal action.

George K. Wyman, director of the State Department of Social Welfare, informed Senator Thompson that the closings are a follow-up of Mrs. Elizabeth Hader's investigation of nursing and boarding homes throughout California. She was hired by Thompson's interim committee early this year. Mrs. Rader reported that one in five homes she visited was poorly operated.

"The effect of the committee's inquiry into the quality of care has been most salutary," Wyman said. "Excellent use has been made of the over-all report with local licensing agencies."

ORDINANCE NO. 118

AN ORDINANCE OF CITY OF CAMPBELL AMENDING SECTION 1:02 OF ORDINANCE NO. 3 OF SAID CITY, BEING AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING AN ADMINISTRATIVE CODE FOR SAID CITY, ESTABLISHING TIME AND PLACE OF MEETINGS, RULES OF CONDUCT, APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES, CREATING CERTAIN OFFICES AND DEPARTMENTS, DEFINING THEIR DUTIES, POWERS AND FUNCTIONS, AND PROVIDING FOR CODIFICATION OF ORDINANCES, ALL FORMING A PART OF THE CAMPBELL MUNICIPAL CODE.

The City Council of the City of Campbell does ordain as follows:

SECTION ONE: That Section 1:02 of Ordinance No. 3 of City of Campbell, being an ordinance establishing an administrative code, establishing time and place of meetings, rules of conduct, appointment of committees, creating certain offices and departments, defining their duties, powers and functions and providing for codification of ordinances be amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1:02 Meetings:

Meetings of the City Council shall be regularly held on every other Monday of each month, commencing with the meeting of Monday, December 17, 1956, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. and at such times to which regular meetings may be adjourned. The official place for the holding of such meetings is hereby established to be the City Hall, formerly The Congregational Church Building, 75 North Central Avenue, in the City of Campbell, commencing with Monday the 17th day of December, 1956. Special meetings may be held pursuant to the provisions of general laws as the same now exist or may be hereafter amended.

SECTION TWO: This ordinance is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, safety and general welfare of the people of the City of Campbell, and shall take effect immediately upon its adoption. The following is a statement of the facts found and determined by the City Council of the City of Campbell, showing the urgency of this ordinance:

That the renovation and conversion of The Congregational Church building, at 75 North Central Avenue, into a municipal building and City Hall has been completed and will be ready for occupancy on the 17th day of December, 1956, for municipal purposes and for the conduct of all sessions of the legislative body of City of Campbell. That a great loss and expense will be occasioned to City of Campbell and its people if the use of said building for such purpose is postponed until an ordinance fixing a new place of meeting is adopted in the usual course, and that such postponement will seriously impair the conduct of municipal business to an extent that it will jeopardize the public peace, health, safety and general welfare of the people of City of Campbell. For these reasons it is necessary that this ordinance become immediately effective.

Teachers to Back Move to Up State Support for Schools

Public school teachers of California voted this week to sponsor legislation at Sacramento to increase state support for the operation of schools by 15 per cent. The action was taken at the two-day meeting of the 350 members of the State Council of Education, held at the Ambassador Hotel in San Francisco.

The council is the policy making body for the 90,000 members of the California Teachers Association.

The statement declared that "last year more than a third of all the school districts in the State were being financed by popularly voted local tax rates on property in excess of the limits allowed by law."

The plan proposes an increase of 15 cents in the per pupil-per school day apportionment—from the present $1.00 to $1.15.

Paul Ehret, chairman of the CTA committee on Financing Public Education, reported that if the proposal were adopted the annual increased cost would be approximately $70,000,000.

CTA's plan would increase the State's basic aid, which goes to all school districts on a per pupil basis, (regardless of taxable wealth), from $120 a year to $135.

The plan would also make more money available to the financially "poor" districts under an equalization formula. This formula provides for apportionment of state funds in such a way that the wealthiest district would receive no more than the basic aid allotment and the poorer district would get considerably more than the basic aid. The most wealthy districts would receive only $132 per pupil while the poorer districts would receive much more.

The plan would provide that some other costs of operating schools be provided by new appropriations above the $180 per pupil-per year now mandatory under the constitution.

These costs—now taken out of the $180—are allotments to districts for excess growth in attendance, for the excess cost of educating handicapped children, for excess cost of transporting pupils to and from school and for supervision and other functions by county superintendents.

It is estimated, according to Ehret, that adoption of the program would provide an increase of an average of $30 per year-per pupil for two million pupils and a $15 per pupil increase for 500,000 in the weathier districts.

Other actions taken by the council at its session included:

(1) Approval of legistlation to increase the minimum salary for fully credentialed teachers from $3400 to $4200 a year.

(2) Support for legislation to set in motion a three-year pilot program to determine methods for improving the education of gifted children.

(3) Support for legislation aimed at shortening the period between the time the people of a school district vote for state aid for classroom construction and the day when schools built under the state aid program are ready for occupancy.

Smog Directors Clear Way for Control Program

Directors of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, meeting last week cleared the way for an active air pollution control program by authorizing the employment of three technical men to assist District Air Pollution Control Officer Benjamin Linsky.

The Directors also approved an Administrative Code—nine months in the writing—for the new agency and authorized the State Personnel Board to screen applicants for Executive Secretary for the District.

Linsky was authorized to "recruit" a chief of technical services at $10,000- 12,000 annual salary; assistant chief technical services at $10,000 a year maximum and a technical assistant at $9,000 year maximum.

Linsky said the salaries were needed to attract capable engineers with knowledge of air pollution control for the District.

The agency, which has been active about three months, has broad powers to prevent and control contamination of the Bay Area's traditional invigorating atmosphere. It was formed through the co-operative efforts of the six counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco, San Mateo, and Santa Clara by an enabling act passed by the last State Legislature.

Board Secretary Ivan Goyak, Contra Costa County, read a letter received from Howard Waldorf, secretary of the aviation committee, Oakland Chamber of Commerce. He cited how smog had already been responsible for a number of near collisions in the air over both major airports in the Bay Area.

"When you mix 600-mile jets and 300-mile transports—in smog that has lowered visibility to three miles, you really have trouble," he wrote.

Linsky said that many Bay Area industries have already purchased air pollution equipment indicative of the co-operative attitude he expects will be displayed by everyone—dump operators, trash burners, truck drivers, motorists—when anti-smog measures are put in force.

Tests Show 25,000 Driving Errors In 10,000 Miles

Recent tests of 10,860 motorists reported by the American Automobile Association show that each would have committed approximately 25,000 driving errors in 10,000 miles of driving, says the California State Automobile Association.

Some errors involved violations of the law, others involved abuses of the car's equipment or practices that lessen a driver's efficiency. The statistical data, however, indicate that even a motorist who would normally be considered a good driver is still a long, long way from being perfect.

The AAA motorists' organization points out that drivers exercised fairly good judgment in controlling their speed. Eighteen instances per hundred drivers were recorded as exceeding the speed limit, and 10.8 cases per hundred drivers were recorded as driving too fast for conditions.

Ten of the most serious errors, in the order of frequency of occurrence, committed by the drivers were as follows.

1. Placing hands in unstable position on wheel.
2. Shifting gears while turning.
3. Driving in improper lane during turn.
4. Rolling back when starting on a grade.
5. Failing to drive in proper lane.
6. Driving in excess of marked speed limits.
7. Straddling traffic lanes.
8. Driving too fast for conditions.
9. Using horn improperly or failing to use horn.
10. Failing to come to full stop at stop signs.

The CSAA urges drivers to check their motoring behavior and make constant efforts toward improving their driving practices to eliminate errors.

Roast Your Holiday Bird in a Boat

Newest trick for roasting meat or poultry is to bake them in a "boat" made of aluminum foil. Ideal for such a task is the new 14-inch wide, heavy duty foil now being introduced. Kaiser's broiler foil is quilted in an embossed diamond pattern for extra strength and rigidity, and resistance to accidental tearing. This new foil may be formed easily into a sturdy single-use baking container. Advantages of this "gondola" method are many. Roasts really brown, instead of just steaming as they do when totally encased in foil. Traditional cooking times and temperatures may be used—18 to 25 minutes per pound at 325°F. for turkey as an example. And drippings may be easily poured from the gondola for accurate gravy measurements.

NEW ROASTING METHOD

Make a gondola for your holiday bird or roast this way: Tear off a sheet of quilted foil twice the length of the food to be roasted. Place trussed bird or roast in the center and fold up long sides of the foil. Draw ends of foil sheet together, folding center of foil inward. Then double-fold the corners to form a secure seal. Place in shallow baking pan. No rack is necessary and clean-up is easy with this method. When meat is done, shape pouring spout from one end of the quilted foil gondola and pour off juices into measuring cup for gravy making.

Campbell Varsity Downs Palo Alto By 48-33 Score

The Bucs came out on the long end of the 48-45 score when they met and defeated Palo Alto five at Palo Alto Tuesday night. Campbell led at all the quarter stops and outscored the Palo Alto club in all the cantos except the third.

The Buccaneers played a good steady game. Control ball with pattern plays worked very effectively for the Bucs with a sprinkling of fast breaks to keep the defense off guard.

Roger Almquist led the Bucs with 13 points followed by Rowe, Andres, and Shenefiel with 10 each. Campbell had a slight 10-12 lead at the end of the first canto but held the Palo Alto five to only 5 points to their own 15 in the second quarter. Half time saw the Bucs way out in front by 13 points 28-15.

Palo Alto came back to score 16 points to the Bucs 8 in the third quarter but the Bucs held out and closed the quarter ahead by 4, 35-31. Campbell nearly lost their margin late in the fourth quarter but some straight shooting by Roger Almquist set the Bucs ahead by 5 and they held out until the game ended with the score 48-43 for Campbell.

Palo Alto's scoring quartet was led by Bennion with 14 markers, Abe with 9, Hall with 8 and Clark with 6.

Buc Cagers Face Fremont

By Richard Ferguson

Campbell will play Fremont this afternoon at 5:30 in the James Lick Cage tourney being held at the Lick gym. Fremont is classed as the favorite with Lincoln being the only serious threat for the crown.

Campbell is in the upper bracket along with Fremont.

Santa Clara, defending champion, will begin the tourney this afternoon playing the San Jose five at 4:00. Fremont and Campbell will vie in the second game at 5:30 to close out the afternoon games. In the evening the James Lick five take on the Los Gatos five at 7:00 to close out the day's games.

Bottom bracket losers will start off the Friday afternoon activities at 4:30 with the winners tipping off at 6 p.m. The upper bracket losers will begin play at 7:30 with the winners playing at 9 o'clock.

Finals will begin at 6:30 for the consolation bracket, third place at 8 and the championship finals at 9:30.

Campbell's game with Fremont will probably see the following players opposing each other. For Campbell, Gene Andres at center, Ron Rowe at guard, Roger Almquist at forward. John Kriewall at forward, and Jerry Shenefiel at guard. For the Indians the line up may include Bud Mathieson, Bud Bowling, Phil Kelly, Dan Ortiz and Bob King.

Lincoln Takes Bucs to Camp

Campbell Buccaneers were soundly thumped by the Lincoln Lions 65-41 last Saturday night at Lincoln. The second quarter again proved to be the Bucs undoing as the Lions rolled up 34 points to the Bucs 16.

Fast breaking accounted for the Bucs scoring in the first quarter as the Bucs out played the Lions 16-13. Big (6-7) Hosisy of Lincoln was limited to one field goal by Gene Andres in the first half but Hosisy dropped through 10 free throws out of 11. Rebounding was the main defect of the Bucs as the taller Lions cleared the boards consistently.

Gene Andres led his teammates in the scoring column with a total of 11 points followed closely by Shenefiel with 9 and Rowe with 6. Four members of the Lion five ended up in the double column as Hosisy hit for 16 and game high followed by Garner and Cassell with 12 each.

'Thirties' Bow to Palo Alto Five

Campbell's "thirties" team went down in defeat at the hands of the Palo Alto cagers at Palo Alto Tuesday but in losing the Bucs broke the Campbell High School unofficial high scoring record. Highest total up to Tuesday was 53. The "thirties" went four over that mark while bowing to the taller Palo Alto five 69-57.

Size was the main problem for Campbell as the Bucs were constantly out maneuvered on the backboards. Fast breaking helped the little Bucs to keep themselves in the game and take the lead off and on. Victor Itow and Dave La Barbara sat out part of the game as each of them went out with five fouls. Lujan led the Bucs with 13 points gained on some nice dribbling work. Tom Perry pushed through 11 with Corbus and La Barbara fillowing with 10 and 9 respectively.

Scoring for Campbell:

Spartan Gridders Set New Records In Poor Season

The nation's third most productive passing attack enabled San Jose State to equal or better nine school football records in what was otherwise one of the most dismal seasons in Spartan history.

The Spartans won two, lost seven and tied one. Only twice before, in 1931 and 1951, have the Spartans lost seven games. The losing record is reflected also in eight "opponents" records tied or broken during the season, Bob Bronzan's last as head coach.

Sophomore halfback Art Powell set three records and became the Spartans' first gridder to capture a national statistical championship as he caught 40 passes This broke Junior Morgan's 1949 record of 25 receptions. Powell also set new marks by catching nine in one game (against Fresno) and by gaining 583 yards on his 40 receptions.

Quarterback Bob Reinhart completed 16 passes against San Diego State to tie a one-game record set by Gene Manges against Stanford in 1950. The Spartans tied a team record by attempting 41 passes against Fresno and established a new mark by completing 20 in the Pacific game.

Season-wise the Spartans averaged 188.1 yards per game passing, attempted 294 passes and completed 147, all new records. On the negative side, they gave up 301 points, 44 touchdowns, 34 points after touchdowns and 14 touchdown passes, all records.

Paul Camera of Stanford caught eight passes against the Spartans to tie a record and Tom Flores of Pacific had a completion average of 85-7 (12/14), a new record for a Spartan opponent. In addition, Stanford tied one record by attempting 34 passes and broke another by completing 20.

LIBERTY REGAINED

A PENNSYLVANIA PUBLISHER, THOMAS COOPER, AND A VERMONT CONGRESSMAN, MATTHEW LYON, WERE FINED AND JAILED UNDER THE ALIEN AND SEDITION ACT OF JULY 14, 1798, FOR CRITICIZING PRESIDENT JOHN ADAMS. TWENTY-FIVE OTHER AMERICANS WERE ARRESTED AND PERSECUTED UNDER THE SAME ACT, WHICH FOR A SHORT TIME THREATENED TO DESTROY AMERICAN LIBERTY.

THOMAS JEFFERSON FOUGHT AGAINST THIS 'REIGN OF TERROR' AND WHEN ELECTED PRESIDENT IMMEDIATELY PARDONED THOSE CONVICTED...

...OVER 50 YEARS LATER, CONGRESS AUTHORIZED PAYMENT OF THE FINES, WITH INTEREST, TO THE HEIRS OF COOPER AND LYON.

Campbell Girl, in Europe Since '55, Describes Recent Revisit to Paris

Editor's Note: The Campbell Press has been fortunate to have its own "foreign correspondent" in Germany since August, 1955. Miss Virginia Grattan, former Campbell High and San Jose State College student, has periodically sent The Press interesting accounts of her visits to various points of interest in Europe.

PARIS REVISITED

By Virginia Grattan

My first day in Paris began with a cup of "cafe au lait" at the Gare du Nord (train station). Just the thing to sharpen my perceptions after the all night train ride.

The first day was spent getting organized. I found a small, quiet hotel on the left bank, just across the Seine from the Louvre. After getting settled, I took the subway to the Opera and secured a ticket for Monday night's Othello, then strolled along the Avenue de l'Opera, lined with elegant shops, to the Louvre. With my guide book in hand (to keep from getting lost) I spent the rest of the afternoon just scanning the highlights of the Louvre, seeking out the Winged Victory, the Venus de Milo, the Mona Lisa, the Slaves of Michelangelo, and roaming through the stately halls filled with the world's great art treasures.

It was late afternoon when I left the Louvre and it was pouring rain. I went home, ate, and went to bed exhausted.

Perfect Day for Paris

After a good night's rest I awoke on a beautiful Sunday, bright and clear. A perfect day in Paris, and one of the loveliest days I've ever spent anywhere.

The day began with "le petite dejune"—a continental breakfast of rolls, butter, jam and coffee. Then, since it was Sunday and I was in Paris, I decided to get dressed-up and promenade. I foolishly put on heels and ruined a good pair of feet this day, but it was worth it.

I started out from the hotel, walked across the Pont Royal to the garden of the Tuileries; down through the magnificent French formal gardens filled with statues, fountains, people strolling, and small boys sailing boats in ponds; across the wide bustling Palace de la Concorde, and along the tree lined Champs Elysees which provides a mile long view from the Louvre to the Arch de Triomphe.

It was fall and all along the Champs Elysees the trees had spilled pools of autumn colored leaves on the streets and sidewalks.

At the Arch of Triomphe visitors from many countries stood regarding the huge monument of Napoleon's victories and the eternal flame at its base, memorial to the French unknown soldier. It is strange to note that many of the visitors had opposed each other in the wars commemorated here.

Arch of Triumph

One of the most moving experiences of my visit in '54 was seeing the Arch illuminated. It was dark, and when the score of flood lights were turned on, the Arch stood out like a great ghost in the black of night.

From the Arch of Triumph I walked down the Avenue d'Iena towards the Tour Eiffel. Long before reaching it, I could see the 984 foot structure above the roof tops. From the Place du Trocadero across the Seine, is the best known view of the tower. I paused here awhile catching my breath, then went to the Museum of Modern Art which is nearby.

VIRGINIA GRATTAN
. . . Foreign Correspondent

Beside the permanent collection of French modern painters (Signac, Bonnard, Utrillo, Denis, Braque, Picasso, etc.), the museum was having a special showing of Henry Matisse (1869-1954). It was interesting seeing a fairly complete collection of one painter, but difficult for me to understand him. I decided that there is much to learn about modern painting.

I watched a tiny white-haired woman and her granddaughter (a girl of my age) pause and discuss each painting in whispers. They were spending their Sunday afternoon at the museum.

Leaving the museum I trudged on to the Hotel Biron, which houses the sculpture of Auguste Rodin. The collection contains originals in both marble and bronze, among which are the Thinker, the Kiss, the Statue of Balzac, the Burghers of Calais and The Gate of Hell. I spent several hours wandering through the chapel and house where Rodin once lived.

In the garden amid a temporary exhibition of modern sculpture is a fountain and pool with marble benches around it. I hurried to a bench and rested my tired feet. The sun came out and everything at once became bright and happy. The garden was full of people. On the bench near me sat a young German couple—newly-weds. On another bench was a French family—a handsome young couple and their two attractive children, boy and girl. The little boy chased a butterfly, while the little girl jumped rope in small bounces like a tiny spring.

I basked in the sun and reflected; how wonderful was the world of the living, especially after several hours in a museum of white marble statues.

Attends Theater

Reluctantly I left the garden, and took the Metro across town to the Sarah Bernhardt theater where I got a ticket for the evening performance of Cyrano de Bergerac. Then I ambled along the Seine looking at the old prints and books in the book stalls.

I became aware of two Parisians—father and daughter—who were also looking at books. They always seemed to be just behind me or just ahead of me. The young girl had a pony tail down the middle of her back, and looked like a young ballerina. Papa was small and looked like a moderately prosperous businessman. They were interested in old books and would methodically look at each old book at every stand.

After awhile I walked on and thought I'd lost my friends, but then they passed me and I saw them laughing and talking over the book they had purchased. They hurried away into the reddening sky of evening and I returned to the theater for Cyrano de Bergerac.

Cyrano was in the grand manner, swashbuckling and sentimental. Although my comprehension of French is rather limited, it was a memorable evening to hear such beautiful French spoken, and see such a vigorous and poignant performance of this French classic.

Monday morning after brunch, I went again to the Louvre and spent hours with Greek sculpture, French and Italian schools of painting, the "Wiinged Victory" of Samothrace, and the "Dying Slave" of Michelangelo, my favorites.

And the Opera

In the evening I went to the opera, Othello, at the splendid Paris Opera house. It was all quite as beautiful as I had hoped. I went home in a taxi that evening feeling sure that no one was as rich as I—art in the morning and opera at night.

Over breakfast my last morning in Paris, I met a serious man from New York. He asked what I was doing in Europe. I told him I was working here. Then, he told me that he had sold his business and come to Europe to rekindle an old romance. He said that he had missed getting married when he was young and he didn't want to miss marriage altogether. So, he wrote to the girl to meet him in Venice, and now he was going there. Before he left he said, "You'd better go home and get married, too, before it's too late." I agreed with him. But that evening I was on the train back to Frankfurt and my job. It's easy to believe one thing and do another.

In the afternoon before leaving Paris, I visited the old city cemetery called Pere Lachaise. Here are buried Chopin, Sarah Bernhardt, Moliere, Bizet, Balzac, Oscar Wilde and other dignitaries. The cemetery is spread over vast acreages and on this cloudy day it was terribly gloomy. At one point I came across a section of war victims, many tombs with photos of parents or children, killed or taken away to prison camps during the last war. I was stunned and suddenly had no appetite for this, which I had originally thought of as a visit to the monmuments of French history and art.

On my way out, my eye caught sight of a simple red marble stone on which was engraved, "Ici repose Colette. 1873-1954" Here rests Colette—famed authoress of Gigi and a score of other novels, who for forty years was one of the most admired writers in France. There were flowers on her tomb. She isn't forgotten.

Riding to the station that evening, my head whirled with a thousand images of this stay in Paris. There was much to think about, and much to remember.

"JUMPING" TRAFFIC LIGHTS

"Jumping" the traffic lights is one way to get yourself into the hospital or morgue, warns the National Automobile Club. Always wait for that green to glow and those other cars to clear before you drive on.

Be a safe driver in a sound car, adivses the National Automobile Club.
